About The NRRA and the Auction

The Northeast Resource Recovery Association (NRRA) is a pro-active, non-profit working with its membership to make their recycling programs strong, efficient, and financially successful by:

- providing cooperative marketing & purchasing and educational & networking opportunities;
- developing innovative recycling programs;
- creating sustainable alternatives to reduce the volume and toxicity of waste, and; educating and informing local officials about recycling and solid waste issues.

In 1981, the Northeast Resource Recovery Association (NRRA) was founded as the "First-in-the-Nation" Recycling Cooperative to provide a clearinghouse for current, up-to-date information and a source of technical and marketing assistance. Since then, membership in the NRRA has grown to include over 400+ municipalities, individuals, and businesses in New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Maine. The NRRA is nationally recognized as an innovative grassroots organization with competitive pricing, enabling small, rural and large urban communities to manage their own recycling programs. Last year NRRA members sent over 1,416 tons of recyclables per week to market through the NRRA!

NRRA's 31st Annual Conference & Expo

(June 4th & 5th, 2012 / Radisson Hotel Manchester/The Center of New Hampshire)

The Conference consists of a number of interactive, educational workshops focusing on all aspects of recycling and solid waste. NRRA's Conference has a reputation for being one of the best in the nation. Each year, the conference looks into cutting-edge issues and brings a regional perspective to recycling and solid waste issues.

The Expo area will house over 50 vendors who provide recycling and solid waste services and products. Vendors typically include equipment manufacturers, recycling facilities, end mills, environmental consultants, engineering firms and recycling suppliers. Visit the Expo area to hear about the latest and greatest products and services in the industry.

NRRA's Silent Auction at the Conference & Expo

One of the NRRA's favorite special events is the Annual Silent Auction. Everything available for bidding has been donated by friends of the NRRA and includes new, old, large, small functional and frivolous items. Proceeds from the Auction/Raffle represents one of the biggest and most important fundraisers for the NRRA. We welcome donations for the auction throughout the year, even up to the day before! In the spirit of raising money for NRRA programs, we respectfully request that donated items have a minimum value of $ 20.
